

STAR Service

Building Positive Memorable Customer Service Experiences

The customers' experience with your organization is everything. To your customer, it represents your entire organization. Research shows that while some customer experiences are negative and memorable for the wrong reason, the majority of customer experiences with your organization are "neutral" and highly forgettable. Neither "negative" nor "neutral" experiences help your organization develop the kind of long-term customer relationships you need to be successful.

As an organization, your goal is to achieve as many Positive Memorable Experiences as possible. When you are able to provide this experience, it is good for retaining customers, it is good for potentially growing business relationships, and it is good for potentially motivating customers to refer others to you, which can grow your business.

Impact

With STAR Service your personnel will be able to:

Increase consistency in creating Positive Memorable Customer Service Experiences for your customers.

Increase customer retention.

Expand business relationships.

Drive an increase in customer referrals.

Who Can Benefit?

- Sales and service representatives.
- All people that deal with your customers.
- Anyone who has internal and external customer contact.

What Makes STAR Service Different?

STAR Service was developed to meet three objectives:

1. Uniquely enable service providers to use the process and skills to consistently create Positive Memorable Experiences for your customers.
2. Provide your service providers with the focus and strategy they need to reaffirm relationships with customers, which, when done well, will increase retention, expand customer relationships, and drive customer referrals to increased levels.
3. Respect time constraints for service personnel and cover the course in just four-hours so that all personnel involved with service in your organizations to be able to learn from this workshop.
